Results of Thursday.
Cairo 2, Clarksville 7.
Paducah 3, Hopkinsville 10.
Henderson 1, Harrisburg 3.
Owensboro 1-1, Vincennes 5-3.

Where They Play Today.
Cairo at Hopkinsville (2 games).
Paducah at Clarksville.
Owensboro at Harrisburg.
Henderson at Vincennes.

Clarksville, June 26 (Special).—Cairo lost the final game of the series here today after winning two straight, by the score of seven to two.

Both Hendee and Humphrey put up a very superior article of pitching, the latter having a slight shade the better of the argument, allowing one less hit and only presenting two walks to first while Hendee gave out four.

The features of the game were two home runs over right field fence by Woody and Enloe of the locals. The Hill Billies have now recovered from their slump and will make exceedingly warm for the Paducah Indians when they make their appearance here tomorrow for a series of three games.

The score: R H E
Cairo 0 0 0 0 0 0 2-2 5 2
Clarksville 1 1 0 5 0 0 0-7 6 1
Batteries: Hendee and Smith; Humphrey and Smith.

Paducah Drops Enneire Series.
Hopkinsville, June 26 (Special).—The Moguls made a clean sweep of the present series with the Paducah Igoroties, making them eat dog and say they like it on three successive days.

"Tige," the $1500 Nap beauty got his in chunks until he was yanked out and Mitchell, a St. Louis Cardinal recruit, substituted. He fared no better.
"We're ready for the Tadpoles tomorrow and what we'll try to do to them will be good and plenty."

The score: R H E
Paducah 3 12 4
Hopkinsville 10 9 3
Batteries: Teague, Mitchell and Johnson; Pearson and Kalkoff.

One for Brockett.
Harrisburg, June 26 (Special).—Brockett's Coal Miners breezed into the game today and plucked the tall feathers from the Haughty Hens in as pretty an exhibition of baseball as was ever staged any place.

The contest was a pitchers' battle royal between Wright and Nichols, while the fielding was marvelous and absolutely errorless on both sides.

The score: R H E
Henderson 1 6 0
Harrisburg 3 8 0
Wright and Fish; Wright and Fish.
Batteries: Nichols and Cassel; Wright and Fish.

Lowly Alyce Wins Double Header.
Vincennes, June 26 (Special).—Cliff Gosnell, the old leaguer, assuming the management of the team for the glory of the Old Post presented almost an entire new team on the ball field today with the result that both teams were captured from the Owensboro Distillers.

FIRST GAME.
The score: R H E
Owensboro 1 6 3
Vincennes 5 8 1
Batteries: Winchell and Harrison; Sisson and Anderson.

SECOND GAME.
The score: R H E
Owensboro 1 4 0
Vincennes 3 4 1

There will be a meeting of the directors of the Cairo Baseball association this evening at the office of President Cox at which all the directors are urged to be present as matters of vital importance will be discussed. With the season only a third gone Cairo confronts financial distress. Outstanding in subscriptions there is available about $200 and not one cent more. It will require fully $1,000 to carry the team through the season in connection with good attendance and practicing rigid economy which economy will not interfere with the efficiency or playing ability of the club. This economy consists of a saving of $750 to the club.

Paducah lost three straight to the Hoppers. Cairo will win one, if not two from the Moguls out of the four played. The double header is scheduled for this afternoon the first game being called at 2 o'clock.

For three years Cairo has had ornamental, expensive "peerless leaders" who "piloted" the team like a water boy does following a regiment. Cairo is now the only team in the league carrying the extravagance. It's funny how some people run a team different from their private business interests.

P-o-o-f old Paducah. Lost three straight to the Hoppers.

Shall one or two directors of the Cairo Baseball association run the team and its affairs contrary to the wishes of six or seven of the remaining directors?

Clarksville steps up in fourth place and Owensboro drops back into the second position.

Everybody take out their pencils and start figuring as there will be some funny combinations pulled off today. The Hoppers stand a good chance of taking the lead away from Batteries: Markham and Ling; Stultz and Anderson (7 innings).

Paducah following today's games. If the Hoppers win one and lose one and Paducah is trimmed by Clarksville the Moguls get the lead. The result will be the same if the Hoppers win both and Paducah defeats the Hill Billies. There are a lot of other possible combinations for the fans to figure on. Here's hoping that Cairo takes both from the Hoppers and leave us to take the leadership away from the Igoroties.

SWATZAS BY SCOOPERINKUMS.

Was it John Nairn that pulled off these three double plays that Cairo made in Tuesday's game or was it Faulkinberry, Murray and Overton. All three of these players were signed by President Cox, unassisted. Cox also signed Engman. The only player on the team at present that Nairn signed is Bing 'Em Jones out of 39 or 40 tried out. It's results wot nox.

Maybe Sunset Smith ain't cracking the ball hard. In Tuesday's game he was up five times and got three hits, two of which were doubles. In this game Donovan gave eleven passes.

Murray started with the stick in Wednesday's game. Out of four times at bat he rapped out three safeties, one of which was tagged a triple while another was ticked for a home run. Murray was also there in fielding with seven chances to his credit. Murray was secured by Cox on Overton's recommendation.

AMUSEMENTS

"RUNNING FOR CONGRESS" PACKS THE KIMMEL THEATRE.

A delayed train and a missed connection interfered with "Running for Congress," but not in its appearance at the Kimmel theatre last night before a monster audience that packed the auditorium and the mezzanine balcony so another person could not squeeze in the building.

"Running for Congress" is a clever tabloid musical comedy with a neat little plot, a bunch of good-looking, well-dressed chorus girls who can sing and dance with equal facility.

There are comedians and those stately creatures, all dressed up in alleged Paquin gowns and other fancy articles of wearing apparel that appeal to the male mind, until it comes to paying the bills, if wifey incurs them.

Nevertheless, "Running for Congress" is one of the best ever, to use an old stereotyped phrase, and it pleased the people, which is still some better for Manager Kimmel and the company, as it means crowded houses today and Saturday, matinees and two evening shows.

The plot of the play concerns an old German, "Rudolph Schultz," (played by Mr. Gross), who has just been elected to Congress. He meets his fellow townsmen and at every opportunity starts to make a political address. Envious neighbors, who appear in the guise of comedians, will not permit him to have his say and upon his efforts to get the floor depends to a large extent the comedy of the production. The German Congressman finally gets to talk but it is when the stage is clear and he speaks to the audience without having a gathering of his stage associates to cheer him. The political speech which Mr. Gross gets off rivals anything ever gotten off by "Bill Nye" or other famous humorists.

The Gem's Good Show.

Who says the Japanese are inferior race? Certainly not when it comes to performing wonderful feats in balancing and work requiring nerve and dexterity. The great feature at the Gem theatre in the new program, the initial performance given yesterday afternoon, is Kusono, the Japanese whose remarkable acts are done with such apparent ease that it is a pleasure to witness them. Strange to say there is always a lack of thrill in the performances of the Japanese, which, perhaps, is accounted for in most part by the fact that when a Jap undertakes a feat, no matter how dangerous, the audience knows he is going to do it without mishap. Kusono is a high salaried Jap and he is worth the money.

It is seldom that a woman possesses such a remarkable voice as Miss Della Godfrey. Not only has she a rich, melodious baritone voice but it is so like a man's voice that those in the audience, even after it was shown that the voice was a woman's, they were still in doubt. Miss Dot Washburn, the other member of the team, is also a good singer and a clever dancer.

Low Hutter is very pleasing. He has a good stage manner and puts his audience at ease at once. His songs are of the comic order and introduce much fresh humor.

A special two-reel Lubin film will be given at today and tonight shows at the Gem theatre, besides two other reels. The story is called "A Girl Spy in Mexico." The war is on between the Insurrectos and Federal troops in old Mexico, and the intermittent firing is playing havoc. The Senorita Armaje, not hearing of her lover, Lieut. Blanco, goes to the Great Stadium Built by the Germans at Grunewald for the Next Olympic Championship Games

No. 1—Swimming Tank. 2—The Royal Box. 3—Cement Track. 4—Judges' Stand. 5—Statue of Victory.

When the German kaiser reviewed his athletic sons and daughters on the afternoon of Sunday, June 8, he officially opened one of the greatest temples dedicated to sport in the world's history. The German Olympic Stadium, situated in the beautiful suburb of Grunewald, on the western side of the great city of Berlin, is destined to be the stage of the greatest athletic meet that has ever been fought out between the nations. It was built long in advance of the Berlin Olympiad of 1916 for several reasons: the main one being to arouse the youth of the fatherland so that Germany will try her mightiest to excel other nations in the feats of strength, speed and skill that will make up the Olympic contests three years hence.

The Berlin Stadium, unlike any other in existence, is built into an excavation, so that the greater part of the entire structure is below the surface level of the ground. It is built of cement, and contains accommodations for about 30,000 spectators. There are 2208 box seats, 12,232 arena seats, and accommodations for 12,470 standees, which, added to the 3000 capacity of the special stands for the swimming events, brings the total capacity up to about 30,660.

The arena measures 110 metres by 70 metres, and it is here that the world's association football gymnastic and swimming championships will be fought out in 1916. The swimming pool allows 100 metres to be swum, straightaway, the water varying from 1.9 metres to 2.2 metres in depth. On the right and left will be large spaces for the gymnastic exhibitions which make up such a large portion of the programme at international meets held in Europe.

The cinderpath in the Berlin Stadium on which the American runners are expected to shine, as they did at Stockholm, measures 600 metres in circumference with a 200 metre straightaway, which was so much missed at the Stockholm games. The track is said to be already the fastest in Europe and should, of course, be even better when the time for the Olympic games rolls around three years hence. The track is built so that seven runners can run abreast in lanes without a semblance of crowding.

Outside of the running track there is a bicycle track of cement measuring 666 2-3 metres, on which the Olympic bicycle championship events will be ridden. The Germans plan to feature bicycle racing on their programme much more than did the Swedes at Stockholm last summer. At the Swedish games there was but one bike event—a heartbreaking grind of 200 miles around Lake Malaren, which kept the pedal pushers at their work for more than ten hours.

Grunewald, where the Berlin Stadium is located, was formerly a forest, but is now a beautiful big park. It is reached from the centre of the city by trolley cars and a fast train service in less than half an hour.
